Innovation

Improving platform technology has seen an increased uptake in managed portfolios based on improved transparency, execution and administrative efficiencies. CoreSeries builds upon these features through a range of innovative qualities:

Keeping fees low without sacrificing quality

CoreSeries leverages Mercer's scale and relationships with best-of breed managers to deliver quality portfolios at a compelling price-point.

- Not constrained to the use of funds available on a platform, the Responsible Entity (RE) has the flexibility to negotiate fees, curate and optimise underlying mandates with managers to enhance portfolio returns and manage risk.

Innovative structure to improve product efficiencies

The unique fund structure brings greater efficiency and flexibility to traditional Managed Portfolios:

- Off-platform manager transitions reduce time out of the market, transaction costs and minimise potential tax consequences.
- Supports greater compliance and risk monitoring.

Access to a dedicated team of investment specialists

CoreSeries Managed Portfolios are supported by an experienced team of specialists. As the investment manager, Mercer designs and manages the portfolio by choosing a mix of asset classes, selecting fund managers and other investments and regularly monitors the portfolio and its performance.
